

FOUR EDITIONS OF THE STAR.

In order to accommodate our patrons more promptly four editions of the Star will hereafter be issued daily instead of three. The first edition will appear promptly at 10 o'clock each afternoon. The second edition will be issued at 2:30 o'clock and will be supplied to mail subscribers. The third edition will be furnished to city subscribers and will go to press promptly at 5 o'clock, with all the news of the world up to that hour. As carriers will be furnished as soon as the press starts, instead of having to wait till papers for the trains are printed as heretofore our city subscribers will receive their papers nearly a half hour earlier.

SOLDIERS OF CRIME

Who Answered at Roll-call in the Police Court This Morning.

New Year's Day a number of girls were standing opposite Weber's brewery, on Hamilton road, when several young fellows with whom they were acquainted came up, and in a few minutes engaged in a general row over some misunderstanding about the girls. Joseph Hoffman, who bore the brunt of the assault, came off with a severe beating and ten bad but not dangerous cuts—three in the head, two in the neck and five in the arms. The assaulting party then escaped, but this morning Officers Weber and Eding arrested Gus, and Wm. Yeager and Wm. Dig, and expect to arrest the two remaining members of the party by Saturday. The trial will take place January 30th. Bail $500 each.

Charles Lewis, a hungry colored man, stole some pieces of meat from John Klein's place, No. 676 Main street, last night, and was anticipating a feast when an officer arrested him, and Lewis will go to the Work-House for a month.

John Feeney was fined $5 this morning for missing one of his horses at the corner of Plum and Third streets yesterday.

Walter Owen, a colored roustabout, stole $7 from one of his companions at the wharf last evening, and was given a sentence of $200-$30 this morning.

John Barker took a trip into the country New Year's Day and stole two turkeys; but the owner, Elizabeth Klank, followed him up until an officer was found, and John will now go to the Work-House for thirty days.

W. P. Miles, who drove off a horse and wagon belonging to Anthony McHale, from near the Brighton House, about two weeks ago, and left them at a hotel a few days afterwards in payment of a debt, was held to answer this morning on the charge of horse-stealing. Bail $500.

The first assessed in the Police Court during the week amounted to $1,670.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

Maggie Mitchell closed her engagement at the Grand Opera-house with two performances to-day—matinee and night. "Little Barfoot," the companion piece to "Fanchon," will be presented on Monday.

Next week we are to have "A Celebrated Case," by the well-known Collier Company, under the auspices of Chas. & Palmer. The cast is a strong one, embracing a number of well-known actors. "A Celebrated Case" has been so much written and talked about that the story is familiar to nearly all newspaper readers, but this summary will serve to refresh their memory.

Act first of the prologue—"The home of 'Jean' and 'Madeleine'."

Act second of the prologue—"The camp of the Duke d'Aubertine after Fontenoy, with a view of the battle field."

Act first of the play—"The house and park of the 'Duke d'Aubertine' with a view of Toulon and the sea."

Act second and third of the play—"A salon in the house of 'Duke d'Aubertine'."

Act fourth of the play—"A room in the house of the 'Duke d'Aubertine' opening on the park."

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

"Mother and Son," which has been presented with such great success in New York, Philadelphia and Boston, is to be presented at Pike's Opera-house next week by the Company of the Union Square Theater, New York. The piece is spoken of by the Eastern press as one of the best French plays that has yet been put into vigorous English. It is an interesting and sparkling play with brilliant dialogues that give the impression of both a comedy and an interesting domestic drama. Seats can be secured at Newhall's.

DRAMATIC POINTS AND PERSONALS.

Gust Wagner has been for the fourth time in a year yet he is always happy.

Gustav F. Hall joined the New Opera Company at Peoria, Ill., on the 4th inst.

Miss Montague, the opera singer, is a native of the island of Honolulu, and was the first white child born on the island.

Kate Claxton's tour will be with the "Double Marriage," and she herself will play the part of "The Mother" in the play done by Alice Lang.

Mr. Ranero Rebeckin, of the Union Square Theater, was killed Christmas Eve by falling from the track of the New York Elevated Railroad.

Mr. Fred. Ruhlman, the partner of Mr. H. J. Monahan in Her Majesty's Opera Company, has contributed $25 to the Widows and Orphans Dramatic Fund.

Miss Melville, who sang the leading part in the "Chimes of Normandy" last season, is living in San Francisco, where her husband is a prominent and wealthy merchant.

Miss Rose Byrting returned to New York on Sunday, and is lying seriously ill at her residence under the care of Dr. Guernsey. Miss Byrting has broken down from overwork, and is obliged to cancel her engagements in order to obtain rest.

A Murderer Returns Home to Die.

[Meridian (Miss) Mercury.]

The case of the killing of T. Vestal, at Lockport, some two years ago, is too recent and was too shocking to be forgotten. He was shot in the breast with a full charge of buckshot, at close range, in Kelly's store, at the twilight hour, and fell and died almost instantly. Ben. Frank Brown fired the fatal shot. Very leisurely he betook himself to flight, and has remained away out of reach of the officers of the law ever since the commission of the crime. But a singular thing has now occurred. On Christmas Eve, Ben. Frank Brown, of his own accord, came to this city, made known the fact of his return to the Sheriff and some friends and acquaintances, and took up his abode at one of the hotels. He is reported to be sick, and in an advanced stage of consumption, a heavier hand than that of the law having been laid upon him. He is under indictment for murder, and Sheriff Henderson has him in custody, and is having a watch kept over him as he lies bedridden, which, from all accounts, was hardly necessary. A few days ago the Sheriff received a telegram from Eufaula, Ala., announcing his presence there, and saying, if he would, he could be had. He now tells Captain Henderson that he had the dispatch sent. He says he has come from the extreme southern portion of Florida, where he had hid himself away. His condition is hopeless and pitiable. If his disease could be miraculously cured, he is in the hands of the law for a fearful crime, with a terrible penalty impending.

THE LATE PRINCESS ALICE.—The Grand Duchess of Hesse-Darmstadt, says the London Daily News, has in her own person more claims than one to this sympathy. During her unmarried life in England she enjoyed a share of the respect and popularity which her generations has been deservedly accorded to English princesses, and almost the last act of her maidenhood was the nursing of her father, to which we have already alluded. Like most of Her Majesty's elder children, she was married very early, and though she has only this year reached the half-way house of life, almost as many of her days have passed since her marriage as before it. In her foreign home she has distinguished herself by performing all the duties of sovereignty.

Her exertions during the war of 1870 in promoting the welfare of the wounded, are not yet forgotten, and are not likely to be forgotten. No word other than praise has ever been accorded to her private life and to her discharge of the complicated obligations which fell upon her, and which are perhaps more complicated and heavier in the smaller German Courts than even in our own. She has, moreover, won the reputation of being a patroness of art and letters, and of encouraging men of thought and learning whose efforts have not been directed in merely courtly or every day paths.

Of her devotion to her family the very illness which has attacked her is sufficient proof. It is due, according to her medical attendants, entirely to the assiduous care and affection which she bestowed upon her sick children. She has, indeed, in her brief life had more than usual opportunities of earning distinction in the performance of those offices which, by a feeling not, we hope, yet extinct, have been held to be peculiarly womanly. First to her father, then to her people, and lastly to her children, she has been nurse and minister; and to the discharge of this duty she has, if it be lost, will now have fallen a sacrifice.

Yesterday an Eighteenth Ward young man asked his landlady what kind of a bed the new one in his room was. "A spring bed," she replied. The youth felt the crop of December wheat under his chin as he said, "Well, I wish you would put more clothing on that bed and make it a winter instead of a spring one."—[New York Star.]

Nothing tries the patience of a man more than to listen to a hacking cough, which he knows could easily be cured by investing 25c in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

High Authority.

The late eminent chemist, Professor Jas. V. Z. Blane, says, in his letter of December 14th, 1874: "Since I became satisfied, by my analysis, with the purity of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, of its freedom from adulteration, the care taken in its preparation, I have had it used in my own house."

Death's Door Wide Open.

For those who suffer a cough to "run on" until the lungs separate, or the wind pipe and the bronchial tubes become hopelessly diseased, but for all who resort to Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar, in the early stages there is immediate relief, and the absolute certainty of a permanent cure.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure toothache in one minute. Sold by all druggists at 25c.

POROUS PLASTERS.

BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER.

IS A GREAT REMEDY.

This really wonderful plaster was invented as an improvement on the ordinary porous plaster. Contains a 1/2 the merit of the common porous plaster, and in addition a new and powerful constituent of active value. It is not only superior to other porous plasters, but to all other external remedies including liniments and all the so-called electrical appliances. It acts more promptly, powerfully, and effectively than any similar remedy ever devised.

ITS CHEAPNESS.

A single plaster costs but 25c, and in many instances especially when intended for children it can be cut in two and the parts applied at different times. In virtue of its cheapness in a day, it can be worn, taken off, and worn again, and this operation repeated several times. Benson's Capsine Porous Plaster is especially recommended for the following ailments.

LAME BACK.

Weakness of the Back and Muscles, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Affections of the Heart, Female Complaints, Stomach and Neglected Colds and Coughs, Fever and Ague, Diseases of Children, such as Whooping Cough, Ordinary Cough and Croup, (when used in its early stages), and for all Local Aches and Pains of Young or Old.

For such ailments as these it is warranted to be superior to any known remedy.

ASK ANY PHYSICIAN.

The remarkable merit of Benson's Capsine Plaster has been recognized by physicians and chemists everywhere, and we recommend those who have doubts concerning the truth of the above statements, to consult some reliable physician of their own locality. By taking this small trouble all will be convinced that the article is precisely what it is claimed to be.

BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER.

Can be obtained of almost any druggist in the United States or Canada for 25c. Purchasers should beware of worthless imitations, and plasters having a smell resembling naphtha.

CARBOLATE OF TAR.

Thousands suffer without knowing the nature of this almost universal complaint. It is an ulceration of the head. Its indications are, hawking, spitting, weak inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, dryness and heat of the nose, matter running from the head down the throat, often ringing in the ears, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness and dizziness of the head, often in the first stages, but more commonly in its advanced stages, attended with pain in the chest or left side, and under the shoulder blades. Indigestion usually attends Catarrh; a hacking cough and colds are very common; some have all these symptoms; others only a part. Very little pain attends Catarrh until the liver and the lungs are attacked in consequence of the stream of pollution running from the head into the stomach.

All persons thus affected take cold easily, and have frequently a running at the nostrils; the breath sometimes reveals all around the corruption within, while the patient has frequently lost all sense of smell. The disease advances covertly, until pain in the chest, lungs or bowels, startles him; he hawks and coughs, has dyspepsia, liver complaint, and is urged by his doctor to take this or that; perhaps, cod liver oil is prescribed. Perfectly ridiculous! The foul mucus in the head can not be reached by pouring such stuff into the poor, jaded stomach. The patient becomes nervous; the voice is harsh and unnatural; he feels disheartened; memory loses its power; judgment, his zeal, gloomy forebodings hang over him; hundreds, yes thousands, in such circumstances, feel that to die would be a relief, and many even do so.

THE DISEASE IS DYING.

In early life with consumption, who can look back a few years—perhaps only months—when it was only Catarrh. Neglected, when a cure is possible, very soon it will transform the features of health and youth into the dead, pallid appearance; while the hacking cough, the excess of blood gushing from the lungs, or night sweats, all significantly proclaim it is too late; and thus a neglected Catarrh ends in the consumptive's grave.

NASAL CATARRH.

Sometimes the disease only affects the membranes lining the nasal passages, and they may be easily reached and cured by simple means. But when it is located in the frontal sinus, or in the posterior nares, or if it has entered the ear-tubes, and is injuring the ear, then nothing but the daily medicated vapor can effectively reach it and destroy it. And certainly, after it has affected the throat and bronchial tubes, as all well-read physicians will readily attest, nothing can be relied on to effect a permanent cure but the inhalation of properly medicated vapor. In the same manner that we breathe common air we can inhale and breathe medicated air, and it is perfectly simple, any one can see, thus to treat diseases of the throat, bronchial pipes and lungs. How much better this method by which remedies are conveyed directly to the seat of the disease, than to resort to the uncertain and too frequently mischievous action of medicines taken into the stomach.

THE COLD AIR INHALING BALM.

This part of my treatment I regard as very important, especially in warding off colds (which is full half of the battle), and in relieving the head and lungs while under their effects. The balm is composed of several kinds of gums, balsams, oils, and essential oils, which are separately used by the best physicians in treating throat, bronchial, and lung diseases. These have been combined, and concentrated their virtues, which, by the inhaling process, are drawn through the various passages of the head and respiratory organs, reaching and healing every irritated spot. If used when cold first makes its appearance—which usually begins by an irritation of the mucous lining of the nose, and a sneeze, which is nature's own warning—it will, moreover, by its action, produce a quicker circulation, and by throwing the blood to the surface, the bad effects of a cold are ward off. It is pleasant to use and almost instantaneous in its effects.

AND COLD AIR INHALING BALM, and wrought upon myself a wonderful cure. Now I can speak for hours with no difficulty, and can breathe freely in any atmosphere. At the calls of numerous friends, I have given my cure to the public, and have now thousands of patients in all parts of the country, and thousands of happy fellows who have suffered from Catarrh, and who are now cured, though not perfect, and is endorsed by every physician who has examined it. If I can relieve my few beings as I have been relieved of this horrible disease, which has cost me so much, I shall at once discontinue it myself and others, I shall be satisfied, and I feel that I have done my little toward removing the ills of mankind.

TEACHERS IN OUR SCHOOLS. S are greatly in need to this fearful malady. Confinement in close, ill-ventilated school-rooms; the over-heated atmosphere, charged with the steaming poison exhaled from the bodies of the not always over clean children, breed this disease with fearful rapidity.

LAWYERS IN THE COURT-ROOM and judges on the bench, from the same general cause, are too often afflicted in the same way.

FROM THE CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA.

Mr. T. P. Childs—Dear Sir: I have the true theory and practice for the cure of Nasal Catarrh, and also for the treatment of the respiratory organs. My throat is now so well restored, that I lecture daily with no difficulty, and I find no difficulty whatever in preaching. You are at full liberty to use my name for the benefit of others.

Yours, very truly,
